Risk management

During 2018-19 the Department of Local Government, Racing and Multicultural Affairs continued to develop the maturity of its enterprise risk management framework, processes and systems. Risk management is integrated into strategic and operational planning and is incorporated into project and program management.

The department continues to focus on improving its risk management practices and delivered a comprehensive risk training and education program for upper and middle management in October and November 2018. The program cemented the importance of an integrated approach and shared understanding of the risk management framework and of departmental priorities, risks and opportunities.

Audit and Risk Management Committee

The Audit and Risk Management Committee was established pursuant to the Financial and Performance Management Standard 2019.

The objective of the committee is to provide independent assurance and advice to the Director-General on the department’s:
- risk management, control and compliance frameworks
- external accountability responsibilities as prescribed in legislation and standards.

The Audit and Risk Management Committee Charter establishes the authority and responsibilities of the committee and was prepared with reference to:
- Queensland Treasury Audit Committee Guidelines—Improving Accountability and Performance

Internal Audit

Pursuant to section 29 of the Financial and Performance Management Standard 2019, the department has established an independent Internal Audit function.

Through its assurance activities, Internal Audit aids the accountable officer in the discharge of that officer’s functions and duties under the relevant provisions of the Financial Accountability Act 2009 and Financial and Performance Management Standard 2019.

Internal Audit provides an independent, objective, assurance and consulting activity designed to add value and improve the department’s operations. The unit assists the department in accomplishing its objectives by bringing a systematic, disciplined approach to evaluate and improve the effectiveness of risk management, control and governance processes.

Internal Audit operates under an approved charter that sets the purpose, authority and responsibilities of the department’s internal audit function. It has been prepared with reference to:

- the relevant provisions of the Act and the Standard
- the Institute of Internal Auditors International Professional Practice Framework
- the Queensland Treasury Audit Committee Guidelines: Improving Accountability and Performance
- better practice guidance issued by the Australian National Audit Office.

The scope of Internal Audit coverage for 2018–19 was set out in the approved Internal Audit Strategic Plan 2018–21 and Annual Audit Plan 2018–19. This plan followed a risk-based methodology, balancing emerging issues against reviews of core business and transactional processes. Auditable areas were identified based on consultation and assurance mapping.

The Head of Internal Audit is Jo Buckley, CA, B.Com.
Achievements of Internal Audit during 2018–19 include:

• developing and delivering a risk-based strategic and annual plan of audits covering assurance about, and improving effectiveness of, governance, financial controls, systems, project management, operations, compliance and risk management
• providing advisory services to the department in order to improve risk management, control and governance, and business operations
• completing audits and reviews as detailed in the annual audit plan and as directed by the Director-General resulting in recommendations for improving governance processes and business operations
• assessing the effectiveness and efficiency of key departmental financial and operating systems, reporting processes and activities
• proactively following-up with management regarding their timely implementation of internal and external audit recommendations
• managing a co-sourced service delivery model for the provision of an effective internal audit function.

External scrutiny

In addition to an annual audit of the department’s financial statements, the Auditor-General conducted performance audits and whole-of-government audits, in accordance with the Queensland Audit Office Strategic Audit Plan.

Queensland Audit Office audit reports tabled in the Legislative Assembly in 2018-19 directly applicable to the department included:

• Auditor-General’s Report 1: 2018–19, Monitoring and managing ICT projects—tabled in Parliament 10 July 2018

Recommendations addressed to the department were accepted and management plans are in place to implement those recommendations. Progress in implementing all recommendations is monitored and followed-up by Internal Audit and reported to the Audit and Risk Management Committee for review and noting.

Ethics

Under the Public Sector Ethics Act 1994, the department’s Ethics and Integrity Framework ensures systems, policies, procedures and resources are in place to provide assurance that departmental activities are conducted in an ethical, accountable and transparent manner.

This framework is supported by a range of services provided by the department and the Department of State Development, Manufacturing, Infrastructure and Planning. The departments’ work in partnership with senior leaders across the department to support an ethical culture and right-sized governance.

Ethics provides a range of specialist services aimed at ensuring that the department’s ethics and governance requirements and standards remain central to the department’s operations. Advice and services are provided in relation to:

• complaints management
• registering declarations of interests and managing conflicts of interest
• gifts and benefits
• contacts with lobbyists
• preventing fraud and corruption
• training and development related to ethics and integrity
• liaising with the Crime and Corruption Commission, Queensland Police Service and the Queensland Ombudsman’s Office
• management of public interest disclosures and complaints related to corrupt conduct
• corporate policy coordination and review in relation to ethics and governance.

Departmental employees uphold the Code of Conduct for the Queensland Public Service and receive regular training on the code. Ethics forms a key part of induction sessions and training opportunities are also available online via the department’s intranet.
Ethics has also provided tailored advice and information sessions to staff across the department on request. Much of the advice and training has been focused on ensuring staff have an improved understanding and appreciation of conflicts of interest, as well as fraud and corruption prevention.

Fraud and corruption risk assessment has been incorporated into the department’s risk management processes. A new Fraud and Corruption Prevention Plan for 2018–20 was prepared in consultation with business areas and approved by the Director-General in September 2018.

The updated policies and complementary procedure documents ensure that corporate policies support requirements outlined in relevant legislation, as well as the ethical principles in the Public Sector Ethics Act 1994.

Complaints Management

In 2018–19, two complaints were lodged against the department, both of which were resolved within set timeframes. Customer complaints received, resolved and under management are reported for the financial year on the department’s website www.dlgrma.qld.gov.au.

Information systems and recordkeeping

The department is committed to information management and recordkeeping practices that are open, accountable, and transparent and contribute to sound business decision making and good processes. We strive towards best practice and continual improvement by supporting compliance with the Public Records Act 2002, Public Service Act 2008 and the whole-of-government records governance policy.

Our information management practices support the department’s goals for accountable, well managed community-focused local governments, engaged, cohesive and culturally diverse communities and a sustainable, vibrant racing industry.

Departmental staff use an electronic document and records management system which is underpinned by relevant policies, procedures and awareness training modules. The effective use of the department’s electronic document and records management system enables the consistent capture, use and management of departmental information and records.

The department continues to manage records digitally where practicable. This is supported by electronic business and records management and storage resulting in a reduction of physical records and improved efficiency and productivity.

The department also uses whole-of-government systems for finance and human resource management respectively.

Continual improvements to information security and associated security protocols have been a priority during 2018–19 and key initiatives included:

- implementation of stage one of an information security management system compliant with ISO27001:2013 as a governance framework for assessing information security and business systems risk
- incorporation of the information security management system risk framework as part of the departmental governance and risk frameworks
- improved methodologies for assessing business information risk.
