

CORONAVIRUS (COVID-19)

19 March 2020

A message to Queensland's multicultural community: COVID-19

The Queensland Government remains committed to keeping Queensland's multicultural communities informed and advised on Novel Coronavirus (COVID-19).

The Department of Local Government, Racing and Multicultural Affairs is available to engage with representatives of communities affected to extend its support and gauge community needs.

It is important that all Queenslanders continue to visit the Queensland Health website for the most up-to-date information which is also translated into several languages.

In the current circumstances it is more important than ever to recognise that we all belong, and we face this situation united as Queenslanders. Calmness and alertness remain the key to our response.
