

Database and Queensland Multicultural Resource Directory Guidelines

The Department of Local Government, Racing and Multicultural Affairs, through Multicultural Affairs, maintains a stakeholder database. Using information from the database, the department also publishes an online Queensland Multicultural Resource Directory, which has contact information for government and non-government services, diverse cultural groups and other organisations who provide support or services for Queenslanders from diverse cultural backgrounds. Organisations listed in the directory have consented to share their details publicly.

Organisations listed on the database and directory are responsible for providing Multicultural Affairs with any updates or changes to their contact information.

To add or update your information, please complete the online form or email: database@dlgrma.qld.gov.au.

Eligibility requirements for inclusion in the Queensland Multicultural Resource Directory

The following organisations can be included in the online directory:

- migrant/refugee services
- organisations representing or servicing diverse cultural groups in Queensland
- local government organisations
- non-government community services
- government services
- relevant not-for-profit organisations
- cultural capability training providers.

Organisations listed in the directory should provide a service that benefits Queenslanders from diverse cultural backgrounds. Multicultural Affairs maintains the right to reject or omit an organisation from the online directory if it does not meet this criteria and is deemed unsuitable for publication. In this scenario, the organisation will be notified in writing by Multicultural Affairs.
